

International Fashion

Become a Fashion Pro!

business | collections | commercial | creation | creative design | fashion | innovation | international | organisational | other languages | styling | technique | textile | trends

A broad programme

Summa International Fashion is a broad, fully English-taught programme. A combination of the disciplines Junior stylist and Junior product manager fashion. You will graduate in one of these two fields, but with a broad basis.

Insight into fashion

As a stylist you make designs for a collection. As a product manager, you make sure that designs actually come into being. At school, you develop creative, technical, commercial and organisational skills. Subjects such as trend watching give you insight into fashion. Textile and product knowledge will help you increase your technical skills.

Circular fashion and innovation

You will work on your commercial and organisational talents in the areas of marketing, economics, management and purchasing. You will also learn to work with different computer programmes. Circular fashion - in the context of sustainability - and innovation are central to the programme.

What will you become?

A Junior production manager works within the fashion branch of industry. This can be within a business process outsourcing, wholesale, or retail organisation. This can involve a company developing & selling products of its own 'label' and/or having products custom-made to be sold as a 'private label'. Furthermore the resources and parts can also be bought by the company itself. In such a concept, only production is outsourced.

General information

- 3 years
- Startmoment: August
- 35% work placement
- 65% school
- Crebo: 23207

Summa Fashion

Sterrenlaan 6, Eindhoven

SUMMA
College

Be the <sup>best</sup> you can be!

A Junior stylist can work in an integrated ready-to-wear company or in a business process outsourcing chain, in a department where collection items are developed and made. This can be done by a design studio or a freelancer. After graduation, you can move on to various English-taught higher vocational education programmes like:

- AMFI - Amsterdam Fashion Institute (Amsterdam)
- Fashion and Textile Technologies - Saxion Hogeschool (Enschede)
- TMO- Fashion Business School (Doorn)
- Artez (Arnhem), HKU (Utrecht), WdKA (Rotterdam)
- Academy of Fine Arts and Design (Maastricht)
- Fontys Lifestyle Studies (Tilburg)
- VIA - Design, Branding and Marketing, Fabric textile technologies (Denmark)
- Design Academie (Eindhoven)

About the programme

This is a broad programme aimed at Fashion Management (Junior Product Manager) as well as Fashion Design (Junior Stylist).

The programme consists of 'blocks' or projects. In each block a realistic problem is solved. The lessons will help you tackle these problems. We will have guest lecturers from the fashion world, and you will also work with e-learning.

Internships will be followed at internationally oriented companies in the Netherlands and - further on in programme - abroad. Each year of study usually consists of five lesson periods.

Study fees

In addition to the tuition fee (€1168,-) you have to take into account the following costs:

Basic equipment school

The Summa Fashion programmes largely consist of practical lessons. Summa College partly provides the basic equipment (products and tools/materials) you need to follow these lessons. It is useful to also have some of these materials at home, so that you can practice your professional skills at home and at the internship company.

Books, software licenses and work material package

An overview of the total costs for the coming school year can be found centrally at Studers no later than July 1st. To give you an idea: look at the costs of the current school year. Summa College determines the specifications, but you can choose where you buy the educational materials. In cooperation and consultation with Fashion teaching staff, we have compiled a material package, which is required for Fashion students. Lucas Vakmaterialen offers this package at a very competitive package price.

Laptop

This programme requires students to have a laptop at their disposal. Please make sure your laptop has the correct specifications, which you can download here.

Electives

In the second year you can choose what programme you want to specialise in: Fashion Management (Junior Product Manager) or Fashion Design (Junior Stylist).

Electives

You have to take class at three electives. These electives allow you to broaden or deepen your craftsmanship or prepare you to move on to a higher level. Each elective has an exam. The contents of the elective modules are determined by the school in consultation with the work field. The modules are currently under development and the offer may still change.

Pre-education

To be accepted for this programme you need:

- pre-vocational secondary education certificate theoretical programme or;
- bilingual secondary education certificate.

Additional pre-education demands

As well as meeting the formal requirements, you need to be truly passionate about Fashion and possess a number of soft skills, including being motivated, enthusiastic, having a professional work attitude, being prepared to pioneer, engage in global thinking, and having digital skills.

The programme is also suitable for foreign students (whether or not currently living in the Netherlands) with a comparable level of education.

Limited number of places

This is a programme with a limited number of places. It is important that you sign up as soon as possible. This way you will have a better chance at being able to start this programme, provided that you meet the admission requirements. It is also wise to sign up for another programme that suits you.

Be the <sup>best</sup> you can be!